RABBI'S REFLECTIONS

We have entered the period leading up to the High Holidays. This is a time of introspection. What do we want to fix in our lives? For what do we need Teshuvah? Teshuvah is most often translated as "repentance," but literally means "return." We have wandered from, what...? The path of good? The path of truth? And, we have strayed into ... the territory of wrong-doing? Where have we come from, and where have we ended up? "Returning," in the Jewish tradition, is returning to God, to God's ways, to Godly ways.

Maimonides offers a road map for Teshuvah. The outline looks something like this:

- Recognize and discontinue the improper action: The first step is to stop the sinful act and remove it from one's thoughts, resolving never to repeat it.
- Regret the action: A person must feel genuine remorse for having committed the wrongdoing.
- Verbally confess the action: This involves articulating the wrongdoing and taking responsibility for it. Confession is a positive commandment.
- Resolve for the future: This is a firm commitment to never repeat the destructive behavior again.

According to Maimonides, the highest degree of Teshuvah is achieved when a person finds themselves in the same circumstances where they previously sinned, and refrains from doing so only because of their Teshuvah (and not due to fear or physical inability).

The question arises: What if we don't find ourselves in similar circumstances? Rabbi Alan Lew answers: "(Maimonides teaches that those circumstances) always (find us). The unresolved elements of our lives – the unconscious patterns, the conflicts and problems that seem to arise no matter where we go, or with whom we find ourselves – continue to pull us into the same moral and spiritual circumstances over and over again..." The challenge, for Maimonides, is not to wait for the right moment to do Teshuvah, but to use each moment available to do it. The opportunities find us, not the other way around.

The High Holidays are so important because they offer us the opportunity, the means, to focus on our lives, and change what needs changing. To do so, we must cultivate a sense of being present in the moment, as much as we are able. Each moment is a precious opportunity to right a wrong, to fix something broken. As many of us have been reading Rabbi Lew's book to prepare for the High Holidays, we have learned the importance of cultivating this sense, this attitude. Over the millennia, the Jewish people have fine-tuned their approach to Teshuvah, to returning to the path of Godliness. Let us all use the wisdom of our tradition to grow personally and spiritually, and to support each other in this holy quest.

Shanah Tovah!

FROM OUR PRESIDENT

I hope all of you are having a great summer. It has been wonderful to speak with many of you about your travels and other activities. For those of you that I have not had an opportunity to speak with, I hope to catch up soon.

At the heart of Jewish life is the principle of kehillah — community. Our synagogue is more than a building; it's a living, breathing network of people who show up for one another. From sitting shiva to being a greeter at the door every act of volunteerism strengthens the fabric of who we are. These quiet acts of giving — often behind the scenes — are what allow us to celebrate, learn, mourn, and grow together.

Volunteering isn't about how much time you have, but how you choose to give of yourself. Whether you're comfortable leading, organizing, or simply lending a hand where it's needed, there's a place for you here. We are a small congregation and don't have the financial resources for a large paid staff. As such, we need volunteers to serve on the FJCC Board, event planning, holiday prep, administrative support, and more. If you are already volunteering, thank you!!!! If you've been thinking about getting more involved, this is your moment. Join us — not just to help, but to connect, to belong, and to be part of something meaningful.

Talking about meaningful. There's always something meaningful happening at the FJCC and we'd love for you to be part of it. Jewish life is strongest when we show up for one another.

Look at the events coming up this month — and mark your calendars! Your presence makes our community feel more whole.

Also, as a friendly reminder, don't forget to perform and enter your weekly completion of the Mitzvah Challenge in the spreadsheet

FJCC GIVING GARDEN

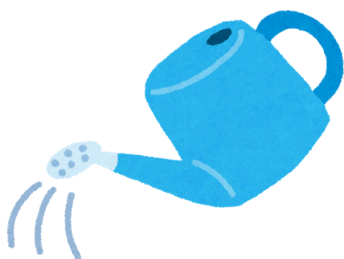

Want to see what 62 pounds of smiles and happy bellies looks like? Check out what our FJCC Giving Garden gave the Flemington Food Pantry the first four weeks of July!!!!

That's 62 pounds of gorgeous Kale, Basil, Okra, Squashes, Tomatoes, Bok Choi, Beans, Peas and Cucumbers.

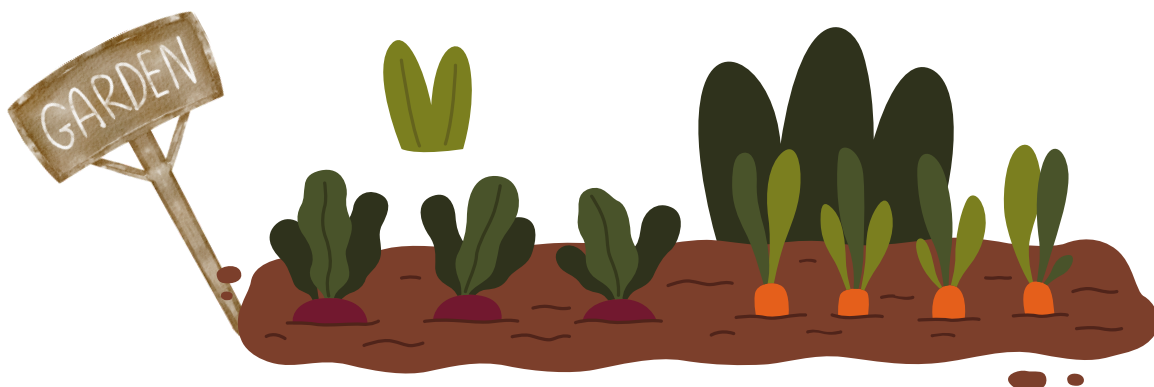

Thank you to Virgie and Donna Drewes for harvesting and weeding, Rich Goldstein for creating a platform for our shed, and Nathan Lefkow for drip line repair.

Helpers are very much needed. Just 30 minutes will make a difference while helping you connect with nature!!! Please contact Pam Nemeth at pambn@comcast.net with questions and to volunteer.

PAST EVENTS

This was our most successful Farmland Ride ever! We had 134 riders preregistered and another 15 joining on the day of the event.

The weather was superb and riders shared their enjoyment of the event with the staff we had at the registration tables at the FJCC and at the two rest areas in Frenchtown and East Amwell.

Much appreciation goes to our loyal and hardworking volunteers who made this event the success that it was, and to our sponsors for their financial support.

Tisha B'Av

Tisha B'Av marks the anniversary of the darkest moments in Jewish history, including the destruction of both Temples in Jerusalem. The day is traditionally commemorated with services and fasting.

Tisha B'Av services will be held:

- Saturday night, August 2nd at 8 PM
- Sunday morning, August 3rd at 9 AM
- Sunday evening, August 3rd at 8 PM

The Fast begins Saturday evening, August 2nd at 8:13 PM
The Fast ends Sunday evening, August 3rd at 8:48 PM

Our 100 Year Anniversary

99 years ago, Jewish immigrants, primarily from eastern Europe and Russia, founded the Flemington Jewish Community Center. They'd come to Hunterdon County to escaped poverty, danger and widespread state-sponsored persecution.

It was important for these families to create a Jewish community here. Initially, services were conducted in members' homes, however, they wanted more. They wanted a building of their own. So they worked hard and saved and eventually opened the first Flemington Jewish Community Center building to conduct services and create a home for culture and community.

The beautiful building we are in now is the evolution of our founders' dreams. To honor their memory and tthose who have given so much so we have what we have today, a series of events are being planned to take place over the 100 weeks leading up to a 100-year Anniversary Gala in December 2026. In August, there will be the following two events:

- Saturday, August 23rd at 9.15 AM, FJCC Hebrew School Alumni will lead services in commemoration of Rabbi Jaffe's 10th Yahrzeit.
- Sunday, August 24th at 11.00 AM, the FJCC will assemble items for a time capsule that future generations will open in 25 years.

At the gathering, you will be able to purchase flash drives for $32 to place your memories or small boxes to place items for $64. There will also be films and storytelling about the 100-year history of the FJCC. We hope that you will take part in these celebration (registration is required for security purposes and to accurately purchase food).

The 100th Anniversary celebration is a community-wide event, so please invite your families, former members, and anyone else that has been involved with the FJCC over the years. In addition, if you have any ideas to make this milestone more celebratory or want to get involved in the preparations, please let me know.
