RABBI'S REFLECTIONS

Cheese is one of my favorite food groups.

This is so, even though I am lactose intolerant. And, next month we celebrate the holiday Shavuot, when it is customary to eat dairy products. I am always excited for this holiday (though I also stock up on Lactaid pills). Shavuot is a harvest holiday, and, traditionally, marks the moment when we received the Torah at Mount Sinai. We chant the Ten Commandments, and also read the Book of Ruth, which occurs during the spring harvest. So, why do we dairy products on Shavuot?

Some derive the practice directly from the Torah, where it calls the land of Israel “a land flowing with milk and honey” (Exodus 3:8). Other places in the Bible also offer inspiration for this practice such as “milk and honey are under your tongue” (Song of Songs 4:11). Others suggest that, at Sinai, the Israelites were considered to be as innocent as babies, whose food is milk.

Those of kabbalistic bent equate the numerical value of the Hebrew word halav, (milk) 40 (‘het’=8, ‘lamed’=30, ‘vet’=2), with the number of days Moses spent on Mount Sinai, receiving the Ten Commandments. Others look to the mountain itself. Mount Sinai, in the Book of Psalms, is called the mount of gavnunim (68:15), meaning many peaks. That description reminds them of the Hebrew word gevinah, meaning cheese.

Modern Scholars, who trace many Jewish customs and rituals to practices common among various ethnic groups, claim that spring harvest festivals characteristically featured dairy dishes, perhaps because cheese was produced during that season.

Some see support for this custom based on the spiritual development among the Israelites in the wake of Sinai. After the Torah was given, they were obligated to follow its laws, including those governing dietary practice. As they returned to the camp from the revelation, they could not eat the previously prepared meat, which had not been done according to the laws of kashrut. Since butchering and cooking fresh meat would take too long for the tired, hungry Israelites, they took the dairy food that was readily available.

RABBI'S REFLECTIONS

In some Jewish communities, it is customary to follow the traditional dairy meal with a meat dish, because, traditionally, we are also supposed to eat meat as a contribution to our joy on a festival day. This can cause practical problems, however, because you cannot mix milk and meat, or the dishes and utensils used to prepare them. There is also the required amount of time one must wait between meat and milk (1, 3 or 6 hours, depending on the tradition). Therefore, in some communities, it is common to have a dairy meal on the first evening of Shavuot, and then serve meat the next day. For some, these two foods also represent the two loaves brought to the Temple as offerings on the Shavuot festival.

The tradition of eating dairy on Shavuot goes back a long way. It's not clear what initially sparked this practice. However, as with many Jewish traditions, it is the practice that captures our imagination, whereas the reasoning may have become lost over many centuries. Perhaps the point we should keep in mind is that Judaism is a practice. We carry on traditions that are meaningful, and that connect us, as a people, through time and across space. It is our practices that bind us, and that have preserved us through the millennia. As long as we pass these on to the next generation, Judaism will survive. As our parents passed these onto us, may we pass these on to those who come after us, adding links to the long chain that connects us to each other, and all the way back to Mont Sinai.

Happy Shavuot!

Being a member of the FJCC offers our congregants religious services, educational programming, recreational events, discussion groups, musical entertainment, service projects, friendship and ... community. As we start to establish the calendar for the coming year, we are open to your thoughts on programming for our membership. Got an idea? Contact me or Deborah by email or in person at the FJCC.

For all the above reasons, I encourage you to participate as a member of the FJCC. We would love for you to share your energy, your ideas, your talents and skills. Please submit your pledge by July 1, share your ideas, join a committee, attend a program. Your engagement with the FJCC community makes life richer!

NEW MEMBER WELCOME

The FJCC extends a warm welcome to
ARTHUR GROSSMAN

Getting to know Arthur Grossman

Arthur recently moved to Warren County, specifically Washington Township after the passing of his beloved Mother, Lyla Grossman. He came for a less hurried life and a more rural setting. He has been a New Jersey resident for many years; he came from Morris County and also resided in Somerset County.

He has interests to re-connect to his Jewish roots, and to carry on the legacy of his beloved parents through the building of relationships and caring for people/humanity. He is seeking community and the interest to make contributions to community.

He has strong interests in European travel; museum hopping is his great passion in Europe. As well as a strong interest in gardening (of which he hopes to make a contribution to the gardening interests at FJCC), and absorbing many facets of cultural interests; film, theater, music, fine arts and more

WELCOME

MEMBER OUTREACH

What's your passion? Do you want to get involved with an activity at FJCC or have an idea you would like to pursue or see happen or a suggestion but don't know where to start?

Feel free to reach out to Kim Muller for all things FJCC at membership@flemingtonjcc.org

Also,

Do you enjoy meeting new people? Do you want to share your enthusiasm for the FJCC? How about being part of a new team forming to reach out to the many new housing developments in the FJCC area.

If interested in this recruitment initiative please let Kim know and send a message to membership@flemingtonjcc.org

HEBREW SCHOOL

Thank you for sharing your kids with us this school year. Second graders mastered the Hebrew Alef Bet while third graders were introduced to learning prayers. The fourth, fifth and sixth graders improved their siddur skills, learned about the Jewish holidays, the Bible US immigration, environmental Judaism, and the Holocaust.

A SPECIAL THANKS TO:

- Barbara Clarin for running the monthly Gan Goes to Hebrew School Program.
- Kylei Mittler for stepping up as lead teacher for second grade.
- Emily Quinn for teaching holidays, the Jewish immigration experience and stories from Chelm.
- Saul Katz for preparing the students to take the lead on the bima.
- Rabbi Cohen for his support. leadership and words of wisdom.
- Kimi Mittler who manages the Hebrew paperwork, details and dispensed band-aids on an as need basis.

Our young staff of tutors and teacher assistants offer classroom support and prepare the kids for bnai mitzvah. I'd like to thank:

- Ian Weitz – Bnai Mitzvah Tutor
- Rose Weitz – Bnai Mitzvah Tutor and classroom assist
- Charlotte Byne – Classroom assist
- Jamie Cohen – Bnai Mitzvah Tutor
- Kylei Mittler – Bnai Mitzvah Tutor
- Zoe Quinn – Classroom assistant

Please notice the changes in the Hebrew High Schedule for the upcoming year.

Next year the 7th and 8th graders will meet on Wednesdays for 4:30 -6:15

9th through 12th graders will meet on Thursdays from 6:00 - 7:15

Hebrew School details for the 2024-2025 school year will be available in late June, and the Handbook and Back to School paperwork will be sent out the week of July 22nd.
The best way to reach me in the summer months is via email, kwalsh@flemingtonjcc.org

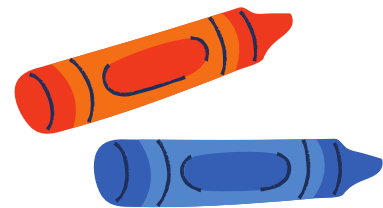

YOUTH GROUP

In April, we had two youth group members attend the USY convention. We hope for more next year!

Due to schedule changes and AP exams, our annual bowling and election event will be held on Thursday, June 6th. We are in the works of planning some new events for the next school year.

End of School

FJCC GIVING GARDEN

It was spring, 2015, when the first tomatoes, cucumbers and peppers were planted in the FJCC Giving Garden, and in June, the first delivery of fresh-pricked vegetables were brought to the Flemington Food Pantry. There were just six beds back then and not a lot of volunteers. This growing season marks our TENTH!!

We now have more than double the beds, amazing community partners, the absolutely FABULOUS support of the FJCC Nursery School, Hebrew High, Rabbi Cohen and Deborah Kesselhaut, and let's talk about our volunteers. They are the GREATEST and we couldn't grow all the food we're growing without them.

This season is the first time we've had a drip-line in place prior to planting, which means plants and seeds were placed strategically along a water source. It's also the first season we've begun with 13 beds, filling them all before the end of May. And, thanks to the many generous plant donations by congregants and others, (I have a black thumb and my plants don't always survive), we are GORGEOUS!!! Add to this the SPECTACULAR cooperation of Mother Nature blessing us with abundant rain so far, and a lot is going well!!!

FJCC GIVING GARDEN

As I write it is May 30th. We do not yet have volunteer waterers lined up, but I want to acknowledge those who have contributed their time to the pre-watering/harvesting effort:

Growers/Planters: The FJCC Nursery School, children, teachers, Kathleen, Josy and Jill, Virgie, Amy Cook, Rich Goldstein, Pam Nemeth, Phil Stern, Karen Walsh and The staff of The Jewish Federation of West Central New Jersey – Robin Freedman-Kramer, Lauren Edelman and Gayle Braunstein who grew a variety of plants in the Federation office and transplanted them in our garden.

Drip-Line Support: Les Geisel of the Rotary Club

Gayle Braunstein and Lauren Edelman of the Jewish Federation - planting beans they grew at the Federation office

Bed Preparers: Liam Byne, Jamie Cohen, Rich Goldstein, Jake Nemeth, Jonathan Nemeth, Nate Nemeth, Pam Nemeth, Ian Rodriguez, Lindsey Rodriguez, Sarah Sornstein, Ian Weitz and Rose Weitz

Rabbit-Fence Installers: Jonathan Nemeth, Nate Nemeth, Pam Nemeth

Community Partners: Cross Country Nursery, Home Depot, Lowes, Rutgers Landscaping, and the Rotary Club of Clinton, all of whom have donated much needed supplies.

Presents

We reserved tickets to see the hit Broadway show
Avenue Q at Music Mountain Theater in Lambertville, Sunday, June 23 at 3:00 pm.
Group rate tickets $27

The laugh-out-loud musical tells the timeless story of a recent college grad named Princeton who moves into a shabby New York apartment out on Avenue Q. He soon discovers that, although the residents seem nice, it's clear that this is not your ordinary neighborhood. Together, Princeton and his new-found friends struggle to find jobs, dates, and their ever-elusive purpose in life.

Filled with gut-busting humor and a delightfully catchy score, not to mention puppets, Avenue Q is a truly unique show that has quickly become a favorite for audiences everywhere. Although the show addresses humorous adult issues, it is similar to a beloved children's show; a place where puppets are friends, Monsters are good, and life lessons are learned.

THE SHOW CONTAINS ADULT THEMES, LANGUAGE, AND PUPPET NUDITY.

Adults Only

Dinner: Tavola Rustica 6:00 PM – details coming soon.

- Option 1: Dinner and The Show
- Option 2 : Show Only
- Option 3: Dinner Only

Because MMT is holding a block of tickets, you must respond to Kim Muller (membership@flemingtonjcc.org) or Bruce Moskowitz (beardocnj@gmail.com)
by June 7 to reserve tickets to Avenue Q at Music Mountain Theater, on Sunday June 23, 3:00 PM.
