RABBI'S REFLECTIONS

The summer is usually a time of relaxation and enjoyment. This summer, however, sees so many awful things going that it's hard to experience the joy of vacation and of sunny weather. Indeed, as we approach Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, I imagine many of us are not sad to see 5784 go the way of history. It has been the Jewish people's most recent "annus horribilis," year of terrible news and events. It does not help that the first anniversary of the October 7th massacre falls right between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, highlighting the fraught character of this New Year. And then, a month after our observances, we go to the polls for what might be the most consequential election in our times, if not the history of our country. From the frying pan into the fire!

These are indeed troubling times. Many of us are anxious, upset, maybe angry, maybe scared. This is understandable! I ask us also: do not despair. Let me remind you: we have been through much worse in our history. We have been in circumstances in which we were virtually friendless and powerless.

RABBI'S REFLECTIONS

Today, here, we are not friendless and we are not powerless. That does not mean we do not have enemies; that does not mean that many of them are not powerful. It DOES mean that we have the capability, the where-with-all, to turn back forces of darkness and ignorance. We may not win every battle. But, we are not weak, and we are not outnumbered. Over this summer, I ask each and every one of us to choose ONE act – just one - that will bring us closer to being the country, the people, that we should be. One conversation, one phone call, one letter, one postcard that seeks to push back the ignorance and hate that is out there. “It is not upon you to finish the task, but neither is it an option to abandon the struggle” (Pirkei Avot 2: 21). Let us be responsible in the tradition of our people. Whatever transpires here, or in the Middle East, let us act so that we may tell our children, and our grand-children, that we did not abandon the struggle.

FROM OUR PRESIDENT

As we at the FJCC start preparations for the High Holy Days, I sat to reflect on the past year. Currently, I am feeling two vastly different emotions: anxiety and gratitude.

The anxiety comes from many global fronts: The war in Israel continues and I worry that it will be fought for some time to come. As colleges start up again for the semester, I worry about the anti-Semitism people confront on campuses and across our nation. This summer, we saw many climate-related disasters and I wonder what the planet will be like for future generations. I've promised myself to take small steps to address these crises.

Happily, the gratitude list is so much longer and more fun to write about!

- I'm thankful to the Jews of Hunterdon County, all unknown to me personally, who had the foresight to establish the Flemington Jewish Community Center in 1926 – almost 100 years ago.
- I am grateful to the past members of the FJCC (from 1926 through the 1990s) who developed an organization that was available for my family when we moved to the area.
- I so much appreciate the supportive friends I have in this community who encourage me, entertain me, celebrate with me and assist me.
- I am grateful for the members who respond to my requests for dues payments, donations, service on the Board, and participation on committees.
- I have loads of gratitude for all the staff and volunteers of the FJCC who: shop, plan programs, make phone calls, come up with creative ideas, do the tasks they promise to undertake, offer a pat on the back, assist with small and large projects, actively participate in events, etc.
- As President of the FJCC, I am often pulled away from my family and there are no words to express how much I appreciate my husband's and children's understanding, patience, support and unwavering love.

In summary, the FJCC is a respite -- a community that feeds body and soul, restores one's faith and reminds me how lucky I am. I promise to do what I can so the FJCC is thriving for years to come, as my contribution to those who will join long after I am gone!

SISTERHOOD

Thank you to everyone who attended the Sisterhood meeting on Sunday, August 18th. We went through the calendar of events and started discussing all the amazing things we have planned for this year! We have a few of the same events with some enhancements on others.

Back by popular demand is the Sisterhood Meet & Make where we will be creating decorations for the Sukkah on October 6th, we'll be celebrating Hanukkah with a lovely Chinese Dinner & Karaoke along with a spectacular menorah lighting on December 25th and we're adding some new enhancements to this year's Progressive Dinner by kicking off the 100 weeks to the 100th anniversary!

We'll also be leading services and diving headfirst into Purim with some Mishloach Manot and singing. Finally, we'll be looking to make some changes to our annual Woman of the Year event! Make sure you stay tuned to all of the Sisterhood news in News & Notes, and the FJCC Bulletin!

HEBREW SCHOOL

The Rabbi, teachers, staff and I are looking forward to the start of Hebrew School. We are busy getting the classrooms together, organizing lesson plans and preparing for High Holidays. Medical release forms, media consent forms and allergy action plans are due. We are introducing an Israel curriculum which will be taught once a month and was made possible by a contribution from the Nikole Kalafer Fund. Wednesday will start with a bracha and a snack for the first ten minutes of Hebrew School. Students are encouraged to arrive on time for a snack before going to class. There have been changes to the Hebrew High curriculum and schedule. Mrs. Clarin looks forward to welcoming the Gan Goes to Hebrew School student back later this month. Hebrew school parent should review the dress code and cell phone policy that is outlined in the Hebrew School Handbook. We'll see you on the week of September 8th.

FJCC GIVING GARDEN

Throughout the month of August our Giving Garden volunteers have been taking not one, but TWO deliveries per week to the Flemington Food Pantry. We can do this because our 13 vegetation-packed beds are producing an INCREDIBLE amount of food!!! Cherry tomatoes, tomatoes, beans, hot peppers and okra have been plentiful. Green peppers, cucumbers and beets are growing well. White and purple eggplants, donated by Karen Walsh, are looking beautiful and nearly ready to harvest. Celery and parsley, planted by Amy Cook, are HUGE!!! And our aromatic basil is the best!!!! Want to make your car smell amazing - drive the less than 10 minute drive to the Flemington Food Panty with a bag of basil on your back seat!!!!

But there are some failures mixed with the successes. Sadly, our zucchini, potato, and watermelon plants prematurely died, and for no apparent reason. Additionally, our kale, though hanging in, hasn't been thriving, unusual for us as we've had great success in past seasons. The broccoli, planted by staff of the Jewish Federation of West Central New Jersey, is in a perpetual Peter Pan state, refusing to grow up. And all bets are in as to whether-or-not the late-planted peppers, grown lovingly by Phil Stern and trans-planted by Dana Cohen, will actually produce a pepper. But most disheartening is that our friendly lawn care guys, who graciously weed whack between the beds every week, cut our butternut squash vines, killing all our growing and future-growing squashes. To solves this problem, (and an additional mud problem,) we plan to cover the grassy areas with garden mulch next spring. Anyone access to free or cheap mulch, or if you would like to contribute to the purchase of mulch, please contact me or make a donation on ShulCloud.

SEPTEMBER 2024 | 28TH OF AV - 27TH OF ELUL

FJCC GIVING GARDEN

July started with a delivery of 47 absolutely GORGEOUS heads of lettuce. (Guess how much 47 heads of lettuce weigh? 26 POUNDS!!!!!!) We immediately planted another 48 lettuce plants that are now nearly ready for delivery.

Considering we aren't delivering heavy squashes, our delivery poundage is quite impressive.

- July 3 - 26 lbs
- July 9 - 7 lbs
- July 17 - 15 lbs
- July 23 - 16 lbs
- July 29 - 15 lbs
- August 1 - 12 lbs
- August 5 - 15 lbs
- August 8 - 7 lbs
- August 12 - 14 lbs

Thank you to all who helped in the garden, made Food Pantry runs, and/or purchased plants in our first ever fund-raiser. We hope your plants are doing as well as ours (well, most of ours.) And if you're in the neighborhood and want to see the most ENORMOUS sunflower stalk/flower every, come take a look, first bed on the right where our zucchini and butter nut squashes used to be.
